

LEVEL 1 HEALTH AND SAFETY WITHIN A CONSTRUCTION ENVIRONMENT

highfield
online training

Build a safe future starting with Highfield's Level 1 Health and Safety within a Construction Environment e-learning course. Learners will discover the legal duties and responsibilities of construction operatives, from health and welfare to general safety, exploring crucial aspects of maintaining a safe workplace. To achieve the Level 1 Award in Health and Safety within a Construction Environment (RQF) qualification (required to obtain a CSCS card), you must sit an exam with a recognised training provider following completion of the e-learning. This exam is not included with this online training and must be arranged separately with an appropriately approved training provider.
